LET'S PLAN YOUR WEBSITE

Website Planning Questionnaire

One home for your social media, your shelter and rescue work, and your wildlife work, all in one place.

This is just the two of us figuring out your website together. Nobody else sees this. Your answers tell us what goes on the site, who it is for, and how it should look and feel, and then we turn that into a mockup (a picture of the finished website) for you to react to before anything gets built or paid for.

There are no wrong answers, and you do not need to know anything about web design. Answer in your own words, the way you would say it out loud. "Not sure" is always a fine answer, and so is skipping anything that does not fit. It runs about 45 minutes to an hour, but there is no rush at all. Save it and come back as many times as you like.

How to fill out this form

- Open it in Adobe Acrobat Reader (free for computer, phone, and tablet). It handles every box in this form reliably.
- Click a square box to check it. You can check as many as you like.
- Click a round button to pick one answer. Clicking another one in the same group switches your pick.
- Click a white box and type. Big boxes scroll, so keep writing as much as you want; nothing gets cut off.
- Click a dropdown (a box with a small arrow) to choose from a short list.
- Save often (File, then Save). If you fill it in a web browser, use the Download or Save button and reopen the saved copy to make sure your answers stuck.

How to send us examples

1. Look for the orange EXAMPLES HELP HERE tag. Those are the questions where pictures say more than words.
2. For a website you like: paste its link right into the answer box. A screenshot of the exact part you like is a great bonus.
3. For pictures (screenshots, photos, your logo, colors you love, a Pinterest board): save each one to your computer or phone. PNG and JPG files work best.
4. Rename each file so it starts with the question number, then a few words about it. Example: Q32 colors I love.png or Q20 favorite rescue photo.jpg. That tells us exactly which answer it belongs to.
5. Put every file in one folder called Website Examples.
6. List each file in the Attachments Checklist on the last page so nothing gets lost.
7. When you are done, send this PDF together with the folder. For a few small files, email works. For lots of photos or anything large, put the folder in Google Drive or Dropbox and share the link. For videos, send a link to where the video already lives (Instagram, TikTok, YouTube) instead of the file.

A few words you will see in this form

- Page: a website is made of pages, like rooms in a house. The menu is the hallway that connects them.
- Homepage: the first page people land on. Think of it as the front porch.
- Domain: your web address, like yourname.com.
- Hosting: the service that keeps your website online. Think of it as rent for the website. We will figure this out later.
- Mockup: a picture of what the website will look like, made before building it, so changing your mind is quick and free.
- Feed: a live window on your website that shows your newest Instagram, TikTok, or YouTube posts and updates by itself.
- Media kit: a one-page résumé for brands, with your follower numbers, who your audience is, and past partnerships.
- Call to action: the main thing you want a visitor to do, like "Donate," "Shop now," or "Work with me."
- Link-in-bio page: a simple page with a list of your links, like Linktree or Beacons.

The Website in Your Own Words

Before our questions get in your head, tell us what you already picture. Write it however it comes out. Rambling is good, half-formed ideas are good, and contradicting yourself later in this form is completely fine. This is the part we will come back to most.

Q1. Imagine the website already exists, exactly the way you would want it. Walk us through it. What is on it, what does it feel like, what is it doing for you?

Write as much as you want. The box keeps scrolling, so nothing gets cut off.

Stuck? Any one of these can get you going

- What do you want someone to feel in the first few seconds of landing on it?
- What is the one thing you wish more people understood about your work with animals?
- What do you find yourself explaining or linking to over and over again?
- If the site could only have one page, what would be on it?
- Who do you most want to send the link to, and what do you want them to think?
- Is there a website, a book cover, a shop, or even a room that has the feeling you want?

Q2. Anything you already know you do NOT want?

Pet peeves count. So do things you have seen on other sites that made you cringe or made you leave.

PART 1 About You and Your Work

Start with the big picture. This helps us understand what the website needs to hold together.

Q3. What name should go at the top of the website?

Your personal name, a brand or creator name, or both. If you have a handle you go by online, include it.

Q4. In one or two sentences, how do you describe what you do?

Pretend someone at a party just asked "So what do you do?" Write it the way you would say it.

Q5. Which of these are part of your work right now? Check everything that applies.

- ☐ Making social media content (videos, photos, posts)
- ☐ Volunteering with animal shelters or rescues
- ☐ Wildlife rehabilitation or conservation
- ☐ Fundraising for rescues or causes
- ☐ Art or illustration (like coloring books)
- ☐ Education, talks, or events
- ☐ Paid brand deals or sponsored posts
- ☐ Horse or farm animal rescue
- ☐ Fostering animals
- ☐ Animal photography or video
- ☐ Writing, blogging, or storytelling
- ☐ Selling products
- ☐ Other:

Q6. Which ones do you want to grow the most over the next year or two?

Name your top two or three, and a sentence on why.

Q7. What is the #1 reason you want a website? Pick the one that matters most.

- ○ Get hired for brand deals and partnerships
- ○ Help animals get adopted, fostered, or funded
- ○ Have one professional home that ties it all together
- ○ Other:
- ○ Grow my audience and following
- ○ Sell my products (books, art, merch)
- ○ Look more official and trustworthy

Q8. A year from now, what would make you say "the website is working"?

For example: brands reach out through it, a certain number of animals get adopted, you sell books every week, people stop asking "where do I find your stuff?"

PART 2 Who Visits Your Website

A website works best when it knows who it is talking to. Different visitors need different things.

Q9. Who do you expect to visit? Check everyone who applies.

- [ ] My followers and fans
- [ ] Shelters and rescues that want to partner
- [ ] Donors and supporters
- [ ] People who want to buy my products
- [ ] Teachers, schools, or kids
- [ ] Brands and sponsors
- [ ] People looking to adopt or foster
- [ ] Reporters, podcasts, or event organizers
- [ ] Other creators who want to collaborate
- [ ] Local community members
- [ ] Other:

Q10. If you could only make the website perfect for ONE of those visitors, who would it be, and why?

Q11. What should a visitor DO before they leave your website? Check up to three.

These become the big buttons on your site, so fewer is stronger.

- [ ] Follow me on social media
- [ ] Donate to a rescue or cause
- [ ] Buy something
- [ ] Watch or read my content
- [ ] Contact me about working together
- [ ] Adopt or foster an animal
- [ ] Join my email list
- [ ] Volunteer
- [ ] Other:

PART 3 Your Social Media

Your website will be the hub that connects all of your accounts. Fill in the ones you use and skip the rest.

Q12. Your accounts. Fill in each one you use.

Handle means your @name. Rough follower counts are perfect; exact numbers are not needed.

Platform	Handle (@name) or link	About how many followers	How often you post
Instagram			Choose one
TikTok			Choose one
YouTube			Choose one
Facebook			Choose one
X (Twitter)			Choose one
Threads			Choose one
Pinterest			Choose one
Patreon			Choose one
			Choose one
			Choose one

Q13. Which platform is your main home, the one you care about most?

Q14. Should your website show your newest posts automatically?

This is called a feed. It keeps the site fresh without you lifting a finger.

- ◯ Yes, show my latest posts on the site
- ◯ No, just link to my accounts
- ◯ Not sure, help me decide

Q15. Do you want a "Work With Me" page for brands?

EXAMPLES HELP HERE

This is your media kit: a page showing your audience, follower numbers, past partnerships, and how to reach you for paid work.

- ◯ Yes, as a page anyone can see
- ◯ Yes, and show my prices
- ◯ Not sure
- ◯ Yes, but as a download brands ask me for
- ◯ Not right now

Q16. Brands, organizations, or creators you have partnered with that you would be proud to show off.

EXAMPLES HELP HERE

Include what you made together if you remember. If you already have a media kit or rate sheet, attach it.

PART 4 Shelters, Rescues, and Wildlife

This is the heart of the hub. Tell us about the organizations and animals you work with, and how the website can help them.

Q17. Organizations you work with. One per row.

Your role could be volunteer, foster, ambassador, partner, board member, or anything else.

Organization name	Their website or social link	Your role	OK to feature on your site?
			Choose one
			Choose one
			Choose one
			Choose one
			Choose one
			Choose one

Q18. How should the website help these organizations and animals? Check all that fit.

- ☐ Spotlight animals that need homes
- ☐ Collect donations right on my site
- ☐ Tell stories of animals I have helped
- ☐ Teach people about animal care or wildlife
- ☐ Wish lists (supplies people can buy and send)
- ☐ Link to their donation pages
- ☐ Share their events and fundraisers
- ☐ Show how people can volunteer
- ☐ Before-and-after or rescue journey stories
- ☐ List of partner organizations with logos
- ☐ Other:

Q19. How often would featured animals or stories change?

This tells us whether the site needs an easy way to add new animals regularly.

- ◯ Often (every week or so)
- ◯ Sometimes (about monthly)
- ◯ Rarely; mostly lasting stories
- ◯ Not sure

Q20. Tell us about one or two animals or rescue stories that mean the most to you.

EXAMPLES HELP HERE

These often become the emotional center of the website. Attach a favorite photo of each.

Q21. Are there agreements or permissions we should respect?

For example: contracts with a rescue, rules about using an organization's name or logo, who owns photos of certain animals, profit-sharing on products, or anything you need approval for before it goes public.

Q22. Anything sensitive about the wildlife or animal work?

For example: keeping rehab or release locations private, license rules about what you can show, or animals that cannot be shown with people.

PART 5 Things You Sell or Offer

Anything people can buy, book, or hire you for. If nothing is for sale yet, check what you might offer later.

Q23. What do you offer, or plan to offer? Check all that apply.

EXAMPLES HELP HERE

- [ ] Coloring books
- [ ] Art prints or originals
- [ ] Merch (shirts, stickers, mugs)
- [ ] Digital downloads (printables, guides)
- [ ] Commissions (custom art or pet portraits)
- [ ] Sponsored content for brands
- [ ] Photography or video services
- [ ] Talks, workshops, or school visits
- [ ] Nothing for sale yet
- [ ] Other: _____

Q24. How should people buy?

- ○ Right on my website
- ○ Send them to where it already sells (Amazon, Etsy, etc.)
- ○ A mix of both
- ○ Not sure yet

Q25. List anything already for sale somewhere, with links.

EXAMPLES HELP HERE

Include book titles, shops, and stores. Attach cover images or product photos if you have them.

PART 6 Pages and Features

Here is a menu of pages most creator and rescue websites use. Pick one button per row. "Nice to have" is a great answer when you are unsure.

Q26. Which pages do you want?

Page and what it's for	Must have	Nice to have	Skip it
Home The front porch. A quick hello, your best stuff, and where to go next.	○	○	○
About Me Your story, your photo, and why you do this work.	○	○	○
Rescue and Shelter Work The organizations you work with and the animals you help.	○	○	○

Page and what it's for	Must have	Nice to have	Skip it
Wildlife Your wildlife rehab, conservation, or education work.	○	○	○
Content Hub Your newest videos and posts from every platform in one spot.	○	○	○
Stories or Blog Longer posts: rescue stories, updates, behind the scenes.	○	○	○
Gallery Photos and videos to browse.	○	○	○
Shop Coloring books, prints, merch, or anything you sell.	○	○	○
Work With Me For brands: your audience, past partners, and how to hire you.	○	○	○
Press Interviews, articles, podcasts, and features about you.	○	○	○
Support or Donate Ways to help your causes, including donation links and wish lists.	○	○	○
Events Adoption days, fundraisers, appearances, and dates.	○	○	○
Contact How people reach you.	○	○	○
FAQ Answers to the questions people ask you all the time.	○	○	○
Other page:	○	○	○

Q27. How do you picture the layout?

- ○ One long page you scroll down
- ○ Several pages with a menu at the top
- ○ Not sure; whatever works best

Q28. What should people see first on the homepage?

- ○ A big photo or video of me with animals
- ○ A featured animal or cause
- ○ A short welcome message
- ○ My newest content
- ○ My newest product
- ○ Not sure

Q29. Which features do you want? Check all that appeal to you.

- [ ] Contact form
- [ ] Email newsletter sign-up
- [ ] Videos playing right on the site
- [ ] Live social media feed
- [ ] Donation button
- [ ] Online store with checkout
- [ ] Event calendar
- [ ] Photo gallery
- [ ] Kind words from partners or followers
- [ ] Booking a call or appointment
- [ ] Search bar
- [ ] A members-only or supporters area
- [ ] Other:

Q30. Anything else you picture on the website that we have not asked about?

PART 7 Look and Feel

This part shapes how the website looks. Pictures help most here, so watch for the orange tags. Trust your gut; "I just like it" is a real answer.

Q31. Pick up to three words for how the website should FEEL.

- [ ] Warm
- [ ] Playful
- [ ] Earthy and natural
- [ ] Clean and simple
- [ ] Bold and bright
- [ ] Elegant
- [ ] Rustic
- [ ] Cozy
- [ ] Professional
- [ ] Whimsical
- [ ] Dramatic and moody
- [ ] Cheerful
- [ ] Handmade and artsy
- [ ] Calm and soft
- [ ] Wild and adventurous
- [ ] Heartfelt
- [ ] Other:

Q32. Colors. Do you already have colors you use for your brand?

EXAMPLES HELP HERE

Look at your social media profile, your book covers, or your logo. Any colors you keep coming back to count.

- ◯ Yes, I have set colors
- ◯ I have a few favorites
- ◯ No; help me choose

Colors you love (describe them, like "sage green" or "barn red"):

Colors you want to avoid:

Q33. Do you have a logo?

EXAMPLES HELP HERE

- ◯ Yes (attach it)
- ◯ I have a rough idea or sketch (attach it)
- ◯ No, but I would like one
- ◯ No; just use my name in nice lettering

Q34. Lettering style. Which feels most like you?

- ◯ Clean and modern
- ◯ Classic, like a nice book
- ◯ Handwritten or brush style
- ◯ Rounded and friendly
- ◯ Not sure

Q35. Websites you like the look of. Up to three.

EXAMPLES HELP HERE

They do not need to be about animals. You can like just one thing, like the colors, the photos, or how simple it feels. Paste the link and tell us what caught your eye.

Website 1 link:

What you like about website 1:

Website 2 link:

What you like about website 2:

Website 3 link:

What you like about website 3:

Q36. Websites or styles you do NOT like, and why.

EXAMPLES HELP HERE

Just as useful as what you like. "Too busy," "too corporate," and "hard to find anything" are all great answers.

Q37. Photos. What do you have of yourself and your animal work?

- ◯ Lots of good quality photos
- ◯ A decent amount
- ◯ Mostly quick phone snapshots
- ◯ Very few; I would need new ones

Please attach 5 to 10 photos that feel most like YOU. Where are the rest stored? (phone, Google Photos, a photographer, etc.)

PART 8 Your Story in Your Words

Rough notes are perfect. We can polish the wording later; what matters is that it sounds like you.

Q38. Your short bio: two or three sentences about who you are.

If you have a bio on Instagram or TikTok, paste it here and add anything it leaves out.

Q39. Your longer story. How did you get into animals, rescue, and social media?

Write as much as you like. The box scrolls.

Q40. Who should write the words on the website?

- ◯ I will write them
- ◯ I would like help writing them
- ◯ A mix: I give notes, you help shape them

PART 9 Privacy and Safety

A public website reaches strangers too. These answers help us share your work while keeping you, your home, and the animals safe.

Q41. Which contact details are OK to show publicly? Check all that are fine.

- [ ] A business email address
- [ ] A phone number
- [ ] A business mailing address or P.O. box
- [ ] A contact form only (no email shown)
- [ ] My general area (city or region)

Q42. What should stay OFF the website? Check all that apply.

- [ ] My home address or exact town
- [ ] Family members or my partner
- [ ] Exact locations of rescues or wildlife
- [ ] My full legal name
- [ ] My schedule or where I will be
- [ ] Photos of my house or property
- [ ] Other:

PART 10 Practical Details

Quick questions about the nuts and bolts. Ballpark answers are perfect; we will look at real options together later.

Q43. Do you own a domain name (your web address, like yourname.com)?

- ◯ Yes, I own one
- ◯ No ideas yet
- ◯ No, but I have ideas
- ◯ Not sure what I have

Write the domain you own, or names you would love to have:

Q44. Do you have a website or link-in-bio page now?

Linktree, Beacons, a Facebook page, an old blog, an Etsy shop, anything. Paste the links.

Q45. After the website is built, who will keep it updated?

- ◯ Me
- ◯ Krys
- ◯ Both of us
- ◯ Not sure yet

Q46. How comfortable are you with tech and apps?

This helps us pick tools that are easy for you to update.

- ◯ Very comfortable
- ◯ Fine once someone shows me
- ◯ I would rather not touch it

Q47. What feels OK to spend each month on keeping the website running?

Most websites have small ongoing costs for the web address and hosting. This just helps us aim.

- ◯ Free options only for now
- ◯ About $15 to $40 a month
- ◯ Not sure yet
- ◯ Up to about $15 a month
- ◯ More, if it is worth it

Q48. When would you like the website live?

- ◯ As soon as possible
- ◯ In the next 3 to 6 months
- ◯ In the next 1 to 2 months
- ◯ No rush

Any dates to plan around? (a book release, an event, a fundraiser, a busy season)

PART 11 Wrapping Up

Q49. Anything else we should know? Dreams for the site, worries, wild ideas, anything.

Q50. Questions you have for us.

Attachments Checklist

List every file you are sending, so we can match each one to its question.

File name	For question #	What it shows or why you picked it

When you are finished

1. Save this PDF one last time.
2. Check that every file in your Website Examples folder is listed above.
3. Send the PDF and the folder (or a Google Drive or Dropbox link to it) back to Krys.
4. Take a well-earned break. The next step is a mockup for you to look at and react to.
